

Today is The Day

I woke up,
Morning again,
And took a deep breath.

Today is the day,
An impacting day.
The one that will change lives.

I will make an emblem,
No later than today.

Not like yesterday,
Or the day before.
When I assured myself,
I will ground my path.
Tomorrow.
The day of endless hope
And silent promise.

But when night fell,
Like the night before,
And my dreams were still dreams,
My hopes just hopes,
I knew,
No later than tomorrow,
Will be that day,
When life will come alive.

But today,
I woke up with iron will.
Today will be the day.
Things will change.
Get going,
Moving along the path.
My step has a bounce,
Because today is not just another day.

Today is the day.
I will make it be.
I will make it worthwhile.

A blessed day.
The one I was waiting for.
Creating my legacy,
Etching my values,
And make the world remember me.

Though my footsteps are not on sand,
I will make an imprint.
Today.
